Seniors Sing for Project '76

IN THEIR second appearance of the afternoon the Model Cities Center Seniors sing at the Moore Library as part of the Project "76 activities.

The Progressive Seniors Choir helped celebrate the birth of the United States by singing several spirituals at the Moore Branch Library last week.

As part of Project '76, a pilot for celebrations of the United States' 200-year anniversary, the Model Cities seniors shared the experience of the Negro slave as he struggled for his own freedom in a nation dedicated to freedom and equality.

Mary Theirry, choir director, talked about how the spiritual grew from the experience of the slaves. The choir sang "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen" as she talked.

Several displays showed traditional crafts including quilts, beads macrame, and crocheting. Also on display was bound volume of the "Friend" newspapaer which was over 100 years old. Pressed between the pages was an old, hand-made card of whitepaper with designs cut into it. Woven through the cuts was a heart made of human hair.

Several artists were painting and drawing, and the afternoon activity was concluded with some old-fashioned story-telling.

Earlier in the afternoon, the seniors choir sang several numbers at the Rest Haven nursing home.

MEMBERS OF the Tacoma Progressive Seniors choir entertained residents of the Resthaven nursing home as they gave two performances in one afternoon.

Dear Tac-Vac

by: Ted Jefferson

Dear TAC VAC:

Q--I am an Army retiree living in a house brought with a GI Bill loan, which I am paying off. I want to move to another state and rent or sell my house. Can I get a GI loan to buy a house trailer with a lot?

A--To be eligible for the GI Bill mobile home loan, you must have the $12,500 maximum guaranty available for use. This can be unsued or restored guaranty entitlement. Check with the VA regional office which approved the original loan for specific information.

Q--I worked for three years for a boat-building company before being drafted into the Army. Now I come back to reclaim my job, like the VA says I can, and the place has changed hands - the new boss never heard of me and won't give me my job back. What do I do?

A--The Labor Department maintain Offices of Veterans' Reemployment Rights, one of which you can contact directly or with the help of the Veterans' Representative at any office of the Federal-State Employment Security System. The Labor Department representative will explain to the new owner of that business that the obligation to rehire you, within the limits specified by law, came along with the company. He must take you back.

Q--Will the VA reimburse a veteran for the cost of his wife's burial plot in a private cemetery?

A--There is no provision for a VA burial allowance for a veteran's wife, unless she is eligible in her own right as a veteran. For nonservice-connected death of an eligible veteran who is buried in a private cemetery, a $250 burial allowance is payable by VA, plus $150 plot allowance.

Address all questions concerning veterans to: Tacoma Veterans' Action Center

MEDITATION

"Pearl Harbor 1973"

Remember Pearl Harbor, 7 December 1941? Most of us living during that time had never heard of it and couldn't have cared less until that infamous attack on a Sunday morning by the Imperial Japanese Air Force and Navy. Thirty-one years later have we as a nation been so furiously preoccupied that we have become an umbrageous country?

On March 30, 1863, when this Great Nation of ours was in turmoil because of the secession from the Union by the Southern States, Abraham Lincoln set forth this proclamation appointing a National Day of prayer and humiliation.

"We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened us, and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own.

Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us!

It behooves us, then, to humble ourselves before the offended Power to confess our national sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

We came through those times with God's help, and with his help we will pull through these critical times. To paraphase Lincoln, who later wrote in 1864 "It has pleased Almighty God to prolong our national life another year."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

by G.M. Bates

SHRIMP CREOLE

2 cups cooked shrimp
4 tbsp. butter
¼ cup sherry
1 cup cream
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
10 oz. can okra
salt and pepper
paprika

Preheat skillet to 325. Melt shortening, preferably olive oil, in skillet. Add onions, green pepper and garlic and cook until onions are golden. Add tomatoes, okra, and seasoning. Reduce heat to 200, cover and cook for 10 minutes. Add shrimp and cook for 3 minutes. Serve from skillet over rice.

Progress

To grow in self-control, in patience, in equanimity, is to grow in strength and power; and you can only thus grow by focussing your consciousness upon the Law of Love. (Self-less love is universal, supreme). Only is so far as you understand, realize, and rely upon this law will you enter the way of power by first attempting to stand along. Break away from the tyranny of custom, tradition, conventionality, and the opinions of others, until you succeed in walking lonely and erect. Rely upon your own judgement; be true to your own conscience; follow the light that is within you. There will be those who will tell you that you are foolish; that your judgement is faulty, but your conscience is at least your own, and to follow it is to be a man; to follow the conscience of another is to be a slave.

We must unite, close ranks, and ignore inept leaders in order to permit business-oriented leaders to emerge. If such growth, progress or unity is not achieved, the same big companies will continue to grow far beyond their current rate.

Shopper's Advisory

Christmas packages left inside your parked car are open invitations for theft according to Tacoma's Chief of Police Lyle E. Smith. The Chief said shoppers should take every precaution to prevent thefts from their parked cars by simply putting temptation out of sight.

"The best way to discourage theft of packages at any time of the year is to place them out of sight in the trunk," Smith explained. "It does take a few extra seconds to unlock the trunk and place packages there, but it is most worthwhile considering the frequency of thefts from auto reported during this time of year."

The Chief said not only should packages be placed out of sight, but they should also be removed as soon as possible after returning home. He pointed out there was always the possibility of having someone break into the trunk if the car was left unattended over night at the residence.

"The thief knows people are trying to protect their purchases by securing them inside the trunk," Smith added, " and despite patrols of residential areas, such thefts are reported when the motorist and shopper carelessly leave packages behind."

Smith also said leaving packages in plain view inside the home presented another invitation for burglars who could easily see the packages from outside the home. "Burglary and car prowling are two big crimes in any city, especially as the holidays approach. Common sense and removing temptation will certainly help discourage would-be criminals from striking this holiday," Smith concluded.

ENGAGEMENT

Miss Leah Evelyn Bailey, the daughter of Mrs. Allean G. Bailey and the late Henry S. Bailey of Salisbury, Md. announce her engagement to Sgt. James Earl Grimsley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Grimsley, Sr. of Lakeland Fla.
The wedding will take place Friday, Dec. 31 in the Bethlehem Baptist Church.

Announcing a brand-new 2-year enlistment idea.

If 3 or 4 years in the service is more than you can afford to give right now, consider the Army's new 2-year enlistment idea.

It's an idea with a choice. You can choose job-training from a wide range of job-training courses. And if you qualify, we'll guarantee that training in writing before you enlist.

Or you can choose to serve with us in Europe. Either way, you get the same total benefits package as with a longer enlistment.

Board Sees Results of Work

A BUSLOAD of Model Cities Executive Board members took a first hand look at some of the projects they have funded during the past year.

The Model Cities Executive Board took a vacation from its normal work load last week to tour the Model Neighborhood and see what their work has accomplished.

Beginning at the Ujamaa Culture and Recreation Center, the board examined some of the work done to the former USO Center. In Addition to decorations and minor repairs, the project staff has divided one area into three rooms where sewing, art, and music workshops are held.

After the initial purchase of the building from Model Cities funds, the project has been responsible for getting supplies donated and for getting volunteers to do the additional work. The center is now working on a day care area and a snack bar.

One of the highlights of the evening was touring the Malcolm X Center where board members took some time for games of ping-pong and pool. Model Cities spent about 10,000 to completely rehabilitate the center and to buy recreational equipment and furniture.

Center Director Arvillia Johnson said that she wants to make the facility a community center for all ages, not just youth. She is planning more programs for senior citizens and for working people. She added that the center needs donations to continue some of its crafts classes.

The board drove by the Downtown Boys Club, which has been completely refinished, and the Hilltop Day Care Center, which has a new playground. The board drove around the Neighborhood Development Project, funded by Model Cities and Urban Renewal, where houses are being rehabilitated and streets, alleys, and sewers are being repaird. On the corner of the Neighborhood Development area, the board saw the mini-park which has been purchased and is being developed.

A walk through Ferry Park concluded the tour. Board members examined the restrooms which are almost complete. The park is in the second and final phase of development.

After the tour, board members seemed delighted to see tangible results of their work. Six of the projects cost Model Cities a total of more than $100,000 with the Neighborhood Development Program costing more than $400,000 in Model Cities and Urban Renewal Funds.

MODEL CITIES Director Keith Palmquist and Ujamaa Director Ellis Cain lead board members through the culture and recreation center.

Along with Robison, 30 community volunteers from the Seattle-Tacoma area hope to raise sufficient funds to enroll 50 CHANCE Scholars at the university next year. A total of $85,000 has been expended on the program to date, including CHANCE, university and federal funds.

Three 'R's Come to Young Madigan Patients

It's impossible for the long-term patients on the Pediatrics Ward at Madigan Army Medical Center to go to school, so the school comes to them -- in the form of Mrs. Jan Gutierrez.

Mrs. Gutierrez works out of the Clover Park School District's Office of Pupil Services. It is her responsibility to insure that the hospitalized children of active duty and retired military personnel keep up with their counterparts in school.

Certified both as a secondary and elementary school teacher, Mrs. Gutierrez teaches pupils of all ages and grades, from six-year old first graders to 18-year-old high school seniors. If the student is convalescing at home, Mrs. Gutierrez conducts her lessons there.

In addition to traditional subjects like math, English, and social studies, she may teach oceanography, Spanish, French, speech or drama, depending on her pupil's interests and needs.

According to Mrs. Gutierrez, her students are highly motivated and enjoy the person-to erson teaching methods she employs. Since many are unable to write, the students do the brain work and tell her what to write. "I think the kids are better for the experience -- it helps take their mind off their illness and they're often better students when they return to school," she said.

Her workload varies with the number of children in the hospital. Working around the schedules of the Center's physicians, nurses and other medical personnel, she works in dividually with each student to make sure that they don't fall behind in their school work. "I'm usually the busiest during the winter months, working with the skiing accident victims," laughed Mrs. Gutierrez.

Under the leadership of Mr. Edward Allen, the Music Department has grown to include piano and voice lessons, daily from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sundays. The department also offers guitar lessons.

Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Craft classes are held. For that special Christmas gift this is the place to start. Mrs. Donna DePriest is the instructor.

Mrs. Addie Cooper, instructs the Sewing classes on Monday and Wednesday from 4 to 7 p.m. and Tuesday and Friday from 6 to 9 p.m.

Ujamaa Guest of "Turned On"

The Ujamaa Culture and Recreation Center will be featured on this week's broadcast of "Turned On."

The program will demonstrate some of the activities going on at the center. "Turned On" is shown at 7:30 p.m. on TelePrompTer (cable television) Channel 6 with host Don Shorter.

Council to See Senior Tape

A video tape showing the activities of the Model Cities Senior Citizens Center will be shown to the City Council on Dec. 11 before and after the meeting.

The television tape will be shown at 6:30 p.m. for the public in the City Council Chambers on Tuesday. The Council will view the program after the meeting.

Various musical groups and craft classes are shown in the program which explores the need for senior citizens centers and the benefits to those attending the center. The Senior Citizens Center will become part of a city-wide program for seniors in January. The program will be operated by the city's Department of Human Development.

PLU "Share and Care Week" Raises Funds for Needy

Pacific Lutheran University students conducted a "Share and Care Week" on campus to raise funds for needy persons, according to student coordinator David Johnson.

Activities included a food fast Thursday, an auction, an amateur talent night and a "hottest personality on campus" contest. Winnters of the latter two activities were determined by monetary votes.

Money raised will be distributed to Pierce County Neighbors in Need, World University Service and Americans for Children's Relief, Johnson indicated.

Johnson was also the coordinator of PLU's two previous student hunger fasts, which raised a total of more than $3,000 for Tacoma area food banks.

ON THE JOB

MARCH OF DIMES volunteer Catherine Johnson has put in more than 1,100 hours at the Prenatal Care Clinic of Orange County Hospital, Santa Ana, Calif. Medical attention during pregnancy helps protect the health of mother and baby.

School to Reduce Engergy Use by 15 Percent

The Tacoma School Distric expects to reduce its use of energy by at least 15 percent this year.

Superintendent Angelo Giaudrone said that four actions have been taken to conserve fuel oil:

(1) All furnaces are being started one-half hour later each morning.

(2) Furnaces are shut down one-half hour earlier each day.

(3) The furnaces are shut off for one-half hour during the day.

(4) The average temperature in each school is being reduced from 73 degrees to 68 degrees.

Three steps are being taken to save electrical power:

(1) Fluorescent tubes are being removed from some fixtures.

(2) All inside lights in all schools are being turned off at night except for those needed for security purposes.

(3) Lights in all rooms or areas not actually in use will be turned off.

The savings on fuel oil may depend on how cold it gets this winter, commented Dr. Giaudrone. The test run at Stadium High School may be a good indicator, however, if the temperatures run about the same as last year.

The saving on electrical lighting load could run as high as 25 percent but several months' experience with the reductions will be needed before an exact amount can be determined.

Nearly 800 fluorescent tubes have been removed from the fixtures in the Central Administration Building alone, noted Dr. Giaudrone. These are mostly from hallways and areas where light levels can be reduced without affecting the job being done.

Several meetings have been scheduled next week by Superintendent Giaudrone to further examine the district's actions during the energy crisis and to respond to a request from the State Office of Public Instruction for each local school district to develop a plan for reducing consumption of energy.

The deadline for submitting and energy crisis plan to the state superintendent is December 14.
